

UPHOLD SALOON REDUCTION DEMAND

Y. W. C. A. MANAGERS ENDORSE MOVE

The board of managers of the Young Women's Christian Association, at their regular monthly meeting August 19, passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the board of managers of the Young Women's Christian Association endorse the movement to reduce the number of saloons in the city of Oakland from 397 to 200 without increasing the present total amount of revenues derived by the city from liquor licenses.

Resolved, That the board of managers of the Young Women's Christian Association endorses the movement in Oakland to have enforced the box ordinance for cafes and restaurants, the laws relating to the sale of liquor to minors and other laws for the protection of women and minors.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the mayor, the city council and the press of Oakland.

FORCES OF LAW AND ORDER TAKE ISSUE WITH THE EXCHANGE

W. C. Barnard Addresses Letter to Merchants' Body in Reply to Its Resolutions

EDITOR TRIBUNE—Enclosed find copy of letter sent to the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland, which is self-explanatory; also extracts from the Oakland liquor ordinance, which may be of interest to the general public in showing the responsibility of the officials toward law enforcement. Thanking you for your splendid support in this effort to get fair and impartial law enforcement, I remain

Yours very truly,

W. C. BARNARD.

Secretary Merchants' Exchange,
Oakland, Cal.

Dear Sir—In note by the morning papers that the Merchants' Exchange passed certain resolutions to the effect that the present reform movement is inadvisable and is injuring the prosperity of Oakland. As one of the parties assisting in this so-called "reform movement," permit me to say that I do not consider this a reform movement, but rather a determined effort on the part of citizens to secure the honest and prompt enforcement of the present city ordinances affecting certain disreputable saloons and cafes and also a movement to reduce the number of saloons in the city of Oakland.

As to this movement affecting the prosperity of Oakland, I beg to call your attention to the fact that the most prosperous city in California today is the city of Los Angeles, and that this prosperity has continued unabated, notwithstanding the fact that there are no disreputable saloons in Los Angeles, no disreputable dance halls, no disreputable saloons and no boxes in saloons or restaurants that are not open to public view from the main room.

Please note that we are not asking for the closing of saloons on Sunday nor insisting that open glass doors and windows should be maintained in all saloons, as is the case in Los Angeles.

PUTS A QUESTION.

Does the Merchants' Exchange desire to go on record as favoring the continuance of the non-enforcement of the restaurant box ordinance? Is it willing to go on record as favoring the non-enforcement of the liquor ordinance, or favoring the continuance of certain disreputable saloons, the character of which is well known to every policeman, newspaperman or any other person who is interested enough to visit such places?

This agitation for enforcement has just begun, and it is gaining headway fast because the people are learning the true facts, and when they learn further facts showing the connection between certain strong political influences and the non-enforcement of the law, they will begin to understand why the present agitation is necessary to secure results rather than the continuation of our efforts during the past year and a half to "co-operate" with public officials. Unfortunately the people of Oakland have had no opportunity of knowing the facts secured by the Public Welfare Commission because of the failure of the administration to print the report of the Public Welfare Commission in pamphlet form for distribution, owing, probably, to the fact that the expense would be too great (probably $75 to $100).

"WITHHOLD DECISION," SAYS WRITER.

I trust that the Merchants' Exchange will not come to a decision in this important matter before making a careful investigation and ascertaining the truth of the statements made by representatives of the Public Welfare Commission or the new Law and Order Committee, and I want to say that I have correspondence on file to show that I have repeatedly during the past year and a half appealed to the police officials to call into conference representatives of the Merchants' Exchange, Chamber of Commerce, Improvement clubs, etc., in order that they might determine how far public sentiment would go in bringing about certain improvements and in an insistence upon law enforcement, but instead of doing this they have legislated in favor of the liquor interests instead of the interests of the majority of the people of Oakland, who want decency and law enforcement.

WILL FURNISH COPY OF LETTER.

If you desire a copy of this correspondence I will be very glad to send it to you, and I want to suggest that a conference be called at once between representatives of your organization, the Chamber of Commerce, Royal Arch, Public Welfare Commission, Law and Order Committee, various women's organizations, Mayor Mott, Commissioner Turner and Chief Petersen, to discuss these matters and to arrive at some satisfactory conclusion, and if the facts given by the Welfare Commission cannot be proved I am willing to withdraw from the contest, but if they are proved we shall expect that the representatives of these commercial bodies will insist on a prompt and vigorous enforcement of the law.

Trusting you will give this matter your immediate attention, and that such a conference will be brought about at once, I remain
Yours very truly,
W. C. BARNARD.

PAPERS IN SLINGS BY CASE GONE

Valuable Documents Relating to Legitimacy Vanish From Safe

Alleged to Have Been Stolen From Repository Mysteriously

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Rivaling the detective tales of A. Conan Doyle, a new development in the fight to clear the name of three-year-old Charles Eugene Slingsby has come with the discovery that papers which had been hoped to establish the legitimacy of the child, whose birth is the basis of a lawsuit for a huge English estate and which is the cause of legal battles in both America and England, are lost. They were stolen, it is declared, from the safe of the attorneys for the alleged parents of the child, Lieutenant and Mrs. Charles Henry Raymond Slingsby, and the discovery has thrown the defendants and their attorneys into a panic. The Burns detective agency is following several clues in a frantic effort to regain the papers, the loss of which, it is declared, is a grave setback to the Slingsbys in their fight to establish the child's name and gain the rich English estates of the late Rev. Charles Slingsby, known in England as "The Sporting Parson."

HASTEN TO CALIFORNIA.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Slingsby are hastening to California to aid in the search. William Mandell, head of the Burns detective agency, whose work is largely responsible for clearing up the case for the defense of the child's interests, is still working on more evidence tending to prove the little one's birth. Secret agents are being held, clerks and employees are being questioned and arrests may come from the theft. It is declared that the thief or thieves must have had outside aid in stealing the papers. The Slingsby case is one which a few months ago attracted the attention of the "Sporting Parson" left the property in England to his son, the army officer, on condition that he had a child before the former's death. A child was produced. It was charged by other relatives that this was not really the Slingsby child, but one born in a physician's office to Miss Lillian Anderson, a San Mateo high school girl, and that a chauffeur was its father.

BATTLE FO RESTATE.

In the meantime the relatives in England began a legal battle to gain the estate. Mandell took the case and is declared to have secured affidavits and papers which absolutely proved that the child in question was the child of the accused woman. These were placed in the attorney's vault in preparation for the legal battle, and it is these papers which are now found to be missing. Assistant District Attorney Louis Ferrari is preparing a brief which he will file in the Superior Court this week, attacking the child's legitimacy and attempting to prove that the Anderson child was registered on the birth certificate as that of Mrs. Slingsby. The Slingsbys will be forced to establish the child's legitimacy before the high court of England, and it is hoped to establish it in the San Francisco courts first, using their judgment as corroborative evidence in the English suit.

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Wilson announced late today that he would prepare at once a message to Congress setting forth in detail the purposes of John Lind's mission to Mexico, a summary of the American note and the reply of the Huerta government.

While the President has not finally decided whether he will read the message to both houses of Congress, it was said on good authority that he was inclined to do so.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Senator Penrose introduced today a resolution requiring President Wilson to take the necessary steps to place United States troops in Mexico to protect American lives and property, such a step to be decreed by the Senate as in no way a non-unfriendly act toward Mexico.

Senator Penrose also introduced an amendment to the deficiency bill for an appropriation of $25,000,000, to be expended as the President might direct for the protection of the lives of Americans in Mexico. He made no effort to secure immediate action of his resolution, and at the suggestion of Senator La Follette, it went over a day under the Senate rules.

The amendment for the emergency appropriation, Senator Penrose explained, was similar to a provision in an appropriation act just prior to the Spanish war, and he asked that the amendment lie on the table in the Senate until the bill comes over from the House.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The Penrose resolution draws attention to the Monroe doctrine and to the possibility that continued destruction of property in Mexico "would involve international complications and intervention by European nations." The resolution specially declared that "it is not the policy of the government of the United States to recognize or assist any faction or factions in the republic of Mexico," and proposed "that the President of the United States be required to take such steps as are necessary to place a sufficient number of United States troops as a consular in the republic of Mexico whenever and at such points as, in his opinion, they may be needed, properly to police and protect citizens of the United States and their property, and it is hereby declared that such employment of United States troops for the protection of lives and property of American citizens is not made with any intent that such policing and protection shall be construed as an act of hostile or unfriendly relations toward the Mexican nation."

Senator Penrose said that in a day or two he would "make a few remarks" on the appropriation amendment and his resolution. "I don't want to stir this matter up unduly," said Senator Penrose. "There is hardly a day that I am not appealed to by people from my state urging action on this matter. It is not sentiment; it is a condition."

Senator Nelson declared it seemed unwise at this juncture to agitate the question. "Such agitation," said he, "is an embarrassment to the President, who is doing everything he can to bring about peace. This resolution should go to the committee on foreign relations and not be used here to exploit speeches of an embarrassing character to the administration. Let me cite a remembrance. We were very glad during

BULLETIN.

Mrs. Edson Ling Hue, beautiful Chinese bride, believes that all women should have the right to vote. A woman should be obedient to her husband. A woman's first thought should be her home. A woman should have equal rights with men in all things.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Americans get married in ten minutes, but it takes a year to be divorced. Chinese folk take ten days to get married, and they are never separated.

Mrs. Edson Ling Hue, formerly Miss Bessie G. Wong, one of the belles of San Francisco's Chinatown, today completed the ten days' process of becoming a bride at one of the most elaborate ceremonies ever held in this city. The couple are leaving on their honeymoon and on their return the bridegroom will become official Chinese interpreter in the local courts.

The only difference between this and other orthodox ten-day Chinese ceremonies is that the bride and groom are to have equal rights in the home. They are American-born, but they are American institutions, and the bride is an ardent suffragette.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Shots were fired by bandits today at King Charles and Queen Elizabeth (Carmen Sylvia) of Rumania. They were riding in an automobile near Sinaia, a fashionable health resort in Rumania, in the Carpathian mountains, according to special dispatches received here. Neither was injured.

As soon as the bandits began firing the chauffeur speeded up his machine and succeeded in carrying the king and queen to safety. The bullets flew all around them as they made their escape.

Bixby's Accuser Is Under Arrest

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Helen Cleo Barker, whose testimony before the county grand jury several months ago was largely responsible for indictments now pending against Joseph H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire, accusing him with contributing to his delinquency, was arrested today in a downtown hotel with S. P. Rowland, a real estate dealer of this city. Both were held without bail pending an investigation. As a sequel to the investigation of the Bixby case, a warrant was issued for the arrest of Helen Barker, who was recently released from the county jail because of ill health. She is alleged to have suffered at her hands. At the same time similar suits were filed against the capitalist by Irene Marie Brown-Levy, another accuser of Bixby, and by Jeanette Ellis. All of the girls are minors.

Will Test State's New Anti-Alien Law

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—The first test of the constitutionality of the California anti-alien law will be begun within the next few days by H. Taniguchi, a wealthy Japanese, according to his attorney, H. A. Chamberlin. Taniguchi desires to transfer 300 acres of land to fellow countrymen for agricultural purposes. Because the law provides that Japanese and other aliens not eligible to naturalization under the federal statutes cannot become possessed of real property within the state, Taniguchi directed Attorney Chamberlin to secure an interpretation from the United States courts as to its constitutionality. Chamberlin said he would carry the case to the federal Supreme Court if necessary.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Because of the stringency in the money market the Southern Pacific Company filed application today with the state railroad commission for permission to float the unused remainder of its $19,120,000 equipment trust certificates at a discount of 5 per cent instead of 4 per cent, as originally allowed when the loan was approved. thus allowed to fall into their hands for deportation at a point on the border as yet undecided.

Thaw's lawyers, however, believing in the advantages of delay, declined to serve their writ on the jailer or, as is locally known, the governor of the prison. Thaw remained in his hospital ward cell, chatting with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lauder Carnegie.

Superior Judge Globensky was sought by the immigration officials to insist on the service of the writ, ostensibly returnable forthwith, but the court held that Thaw's lawyers were within their rights.

NO-COURT PROCEEDINGS.

There were no court proceedings during the forenoon, although townspeople jammed the courtroom. Thaw's battery of lawyers, victorious so far in the strange procedure of keeping this afternoon what disposition they purposed to make of their writ. They said Thaw was not serving it. The immigration authorities and District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county planned to have the writ declared void and insist on Thaw's arraignment at once, either here or at Coaticook, near where he was arrested.

Today the case had reached a stage where the usual relations of the parties to a criminal action are absolutely reversed. On the one hand the lawyers for the prisoner were found fighting hard to prolong his imprisonment, while the authorities, local, dominion and United States, were anxious to have him set free, safe in the belief that the immigration officials would seize him and force him across the frontier.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie spent nearly an hour with Thaw before noon. "He is looking fine," said the former Margaret Thaw, as she left the jail. Dr. Britton D. Evans, director of the New Jersey state hospital at Morris Plains, who arrived with the Carnegies last night, also conferred with Thaw.

RECEIVES VISITORS.

Feverish and worried Thaw dressed before sun and received Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie as his first visitors. Though apparently cheered by their arrival, their presence seemed to make him more close-mouthed than ever regarding his escape.

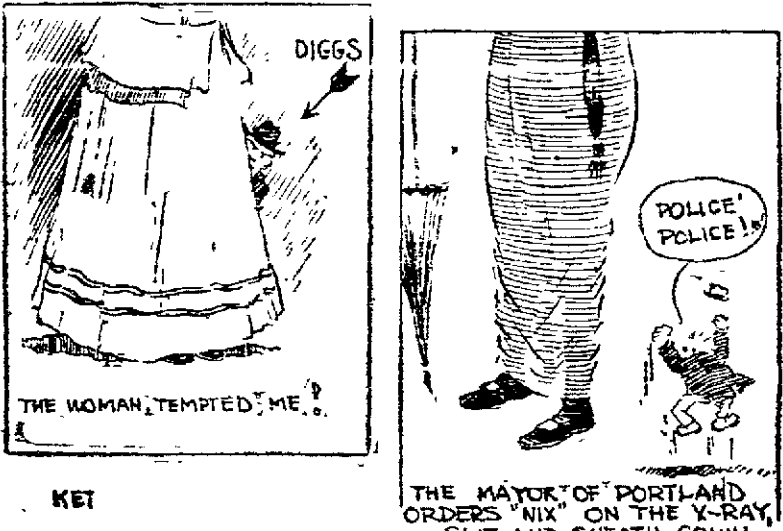

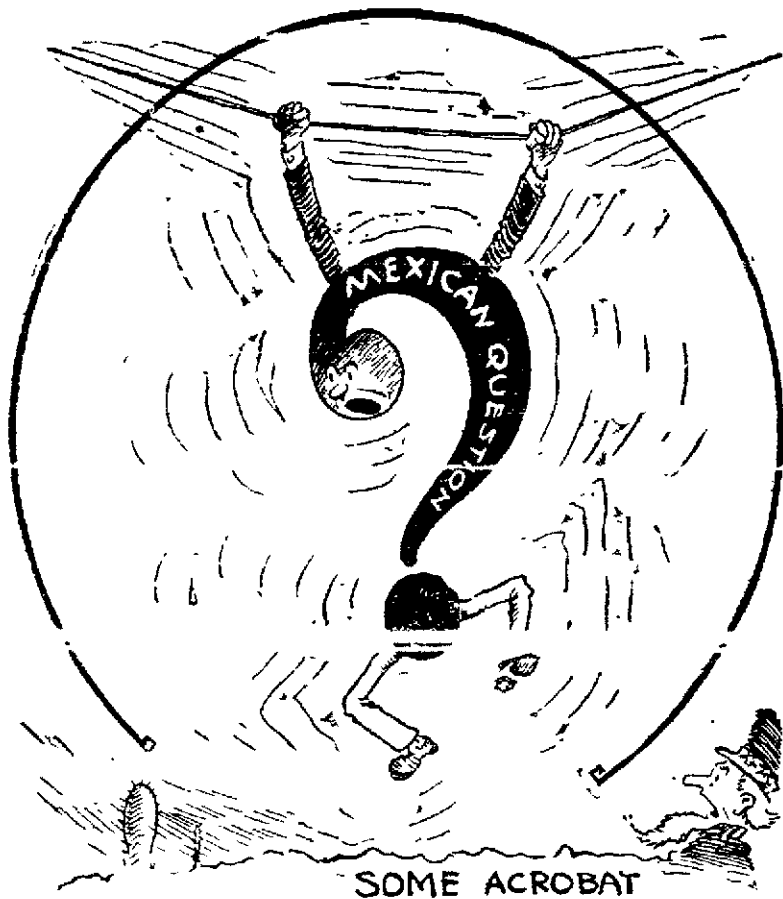

Thaw's fellow prisoner, who describes himself as Mitchell Thompson, but who has been identified by Conger and Hornbeck as Roger Thompson, driver of the black racing car which "killed" Thaw away from the asylum, remained silent in his cell.

Charged with violating the Canadian immigration laws in assisting a fugitive to cross the border, Thompson was unable to furnish the $500 bail required and must stay in his cell until Friday, when he will have a hearing.

Owing to the errors in the papers committing Thaw to jail he is safe there for an indefinite period, as no date for the hearing of his case was set until Friday. While in jail Thaw is also safe from the immigration department, which has no power over him.

By allowing Thaw to remain in custody the defense has offset the immigration authorities, who had been waiting with confident expectation for Thaw's release from jail, when they would have pounced on him, and it is firmly believed, ordered his deportation at once. Thaw is, of course, fighting against being deported to the New York state line, as such a move

The latter is not quite clear as to what can be done for the veteran, and as for interest on the amount he has so far balked at any attempt to figure it.

Chorn explains that back in the sixties just before his regiment was mustered out he was set upon and robbed by four men of his own company while in camp at Bunker Hill, Maryland. He was on guard duty at the time. While the identity of the men was known, Chorn alleges, there was no court-martial because of the disbanding of the regiment which then was under way.

the dark days of the civil war that no foreign government intervened in our trouble. We were threatened time and again with intervention from Germany, France and England.

"We agitate intervention, and intervention means war. We should do everything we can to avoid war and give Mexico the same chance we asked for and were given in the civil war."

DEMAND PROTECTION.

Senator Penrose replied political intervention was not contemplated and that American citizens demanded police protection in Mexico, particularly after the assassination of General American consuls for twenty-five years past. He declared that he was not urging war or intervention. "The idea of annexation of any territory is too absurd to be entertained by any intelligent man," declared the Pennsylvania Senator in conclusion. Senator Snoot declared that while 5000 citizens of Ohio had been driven out of Mexico, yet he would deplore American intervention.

LOAN STORY DISBELIEVED.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—No confirmation can be obtained here of the report from Mexico City that the bankers of Paris and other European capitals have made an offer to President Huerta to float a new loan of $20,000,000. On the contrary the report is not believed by the Banque De Paris Et Des Pays Bas, which is a leading part in the previous loan to the Mexican government. The story also is discredited by the banking house of Lazard Freres.

The French foreign office, it appears, continues to take the attitude that it would be unwise for French bankers to lend money to the Mexican government until the United States government has recognized the Huerta administration. While French bankers are not obliged to observe the foreign office's suggestion, it is usual for them to follow hints of this sort.

MEXICO CITY, August 21.—The proposals of the Washington Government which Mexico rejected in toto were: First—Compensation of hostilities. Second—That President Huerta resign in favor of a President of interim.

Third—That General Huerta should not be a candidate for the Presidency.

An additional feature for the American note was the request for a reply to the question as to what, in the opinion of President Huerta, the present conditions were due, and what the remedy.

General Huerta's refusal to accede to the four demands was sufficient reason to consider the negotiations between the two governments were definitely concluded, but in replying to Washington's pointed request for an explanation regarding conditions in Mexico and their cause, General Huerta himself injected into the controversy what might be regarded as a counter demand, namely, that of recognition.

In a general way President Huerta places the blame for Mexico's civil war upon the United States. He insists that had it not been for President Wilson's refusal to recognize his administration he would long ago have suppressed the rebellion and even now, he asserts, the United States can indirectly enable him to restore order in a comparatively short time.

He asks of the United States government not only recognition, but the withdrawal of American battleships.

ANSWERS HART'S TALK ON 'LABOR AND SALOONS'

The following letter speaks for itself:

My dear Mr. Hart:

(Courtesy OAKLAND TRIBUNE.)
I see by this evening's TRIBUNE that you are a great advocate of the saloon! Being a laboring man myself and carrying a card for years, of which you boast, I am certainly surprised that you should go on record before a public body as countenancing the degrading conditions confronting us upon the saloon issue, the cafe violence and gambling evil, attributed directly to the saloon. In our community, and putting the burden of this responsibility upon the shoulders of the laboring masses, I for one, do not believe that twenty thousand honorable laboring men of this community have delegated you this responsibility, nor the authority with, which you speak, to commit this slander upon the intelligence of the artisan and his womankind.

Have you ever been placed in a position to study these questions? Have you ever paid the laborer his weekly wage and then followed the results of the nearby saloon? Have you ever had mother, wife and daughters meet you on Monday morning at the work, asking how their husbands, brothers or sons received their pay, who, having been paid their wage on Saturday, had spent their all in some saloon where company and a smiling bartender had taken same regardless of the family at home?

MANUFACTURERS' MOTIVES OUTLINED.

Why is it manufacturers today, when looking for locations, make specific requests that it be not within three blocks of a saloon? Is it because they are so efficient or is it for some personal consideration? You as yet, apparently have not been able to see both sides of this question. You ought to know, if you are an efficient laboring man, when you go into a saloon during laboring hours and imbibe liquor, that thereafter, for a period of at least one hour, you have depreciated your efficiency, and in many of our lines of skilled labor have, more or less, endangered the lives of many of your co-workers, not to mention the public, who may depend upon the skill, the trained hand and mind of the mechanic, and it is now almost universally demanded by both public and employer, he shall refrain from any and all intoxicating beverages during working hours, which may be easily proven by statistics.

Why such haste in rushing to the support of many of the doggeries, resorts, deadfalls and so-called saloons, which depreciate and destroy the efficiency of our workmen, hampering and stultifying his efforts to ameliorate the conditions of the laboring masses, degrading and dragging his children into the environment of poverty, shame and crime, and for what? That some corrupt blackguard behind a bar may not be forced to go out and labor in the open field of honest effort and toil.

It would be with considerable pleasure for me to meet with you upon an associate of the workman for many years.

I am not opposed to a legitimate saloon, nor am I in favor of closing all of the saloons, but I do say they should be conducted on a very legitimate basis. The present conditions warrant me in saying, I am one of those laboring men who do not permit you to represent him in your remarks of August 20th, through the public press.

ly, her husband jokingly remarks, the "Boss."

"You see," said Mrs. Hue, "I have my husband's ideas regarding a suffragette." Mrs. Hue wears a bracelet on which are two golden hearts, on one of which is inscribed the statement that Hue grants his wife equal rights of home, speech and equality in all things. In return she promises to be a good wife.

"My husband," said Mrs. Hue, "believes that women will soon have equal rights all over the world. In China they had few rights until very recently under the new government." Mrs. Hue and her husband met when at San Francisco; he played on a football team and she saw the game. The friendship thus formed ripened into love and the result was the marriage. They will make a honeymoon trip through several states.

BONDS OF O AND A NOW CAN BE SOLD

Railroad Commission's Ruling Causes Activity in Local Financial Circles.

The action of the Railroad Commission yesterday in granting permission to the Oakland and Antioch and Eastern railway to sell bonds to cover the cost of extending its lines into Sacramento has been the cause of considerable activity in Oakland financial circles.

At the same time the railroad was granted permission to buy from the Northern Electric for $11,400 one-half interest in certain Northern Electric tracks lying on M street, Sacramento, the Oakland and Antioch decline to double with the Northern Electric in the use of certain Sacramento rights of way.

In the application for the bond issue the Oakland and Antioch asked the commission to determine, first, whether it was necessary to obtain the consent of the board to the issuance of the bonds.

H. C. Breeden, executed March 20, 1912, three days before the public utilities act became effective, the company had placed these bonds with the Union Trust Company of San Francisco. The commission held that its consent was necessary to the issuance of the securities.

HAYWARD TO GET SIX INCH MAINS

San Lorenzo Water Company Promises Improvement to Board of Trustees.

HAYWARD, Aug. 21.—The president of the San Lorenzo Water Company, in a communication to the Board of Trustees last night promised that the company would lay six inch mains in the streets in Hayward, which are to be laid open for repair. In agreeing to this step the San Lorenzo Water Company has forestalled any decision which might be made by the Railroad Commission in regard to the laying of six-inch mains through Hayward.

Complaint was filed recently by the Board of Trustees against the alleged defective water supply given by the San Lorenzo Water Company and asking that the company be required to lay six-inch mains in the streets. Upper B street will be the first street in town to be provided with improved water service. The laying of six-inch mains in the streets is primarily to afford the town better protection against fire. Chief Manuel Riggs stating that at recent fires the department was handicapped by deficient water pressure. The San Lorenzo Water Company stated their intention of laying out a large sum of money in improving the water supply by installing an up-to-date plant.

Bids for the construction of a new fire house in Hayward were ordered to be advertised for at the meeting of the Town Trustees last night. Fire house bonds for $14,000 were passed at a recent election. It is intended to install a modern fire fighting system in Hayward, including a fire alarm system, and a modern fire engine. Work in the construction of the fire house will be proceeded with within a few weeks on the site occupied by the present fire house.

American Woman Too Much for Apache

Mrs. Thompson was sitting reading in the Trocadero gardens when the thief sprang at her and made off with her wallet, containing several hundred dollars. Instead of stopping to scream Mrs. Thompson pursued the man and after a brief chase seized him by the collar and held him until the police arrived.

OWNS LAUNDRY FOR 3 MINUTES

Wily Chinese Makes Present to Constable; Sheriff Takes it.

FRUITVALE, August 21.—Announcing that his aunt had died in China and left him plenty of money, Yee Ling, Chinese Laundry proprietor, of 1832 East Fourteenth street, handed over his entire stock to his "good friend" Constable William C. Allen. Allen came into the unexpected windfall yesterday afternoon, but did not have much time to enthuse, for three minutes later a deputy sheriff "took back" the laundry.

Just as Yee Ling, after the generous disposal of his effects left by the back door to catch the "afternoon boat" for China, the deputy sheriff entered by the front door with an attachment. It appears that Ling bought the laundry from Sam Lum three weeks ago. Lum also left several creditors, and Ling inherited the accounts with the laundry. This was the reason for the attachment and why Constable Allen lost his laundry.

For three minutes Allen was proprietor of a laundry, nine employees, seventeen tubs, two boxes of starch and a horse and wagon.

MISSOURI'S GOOD ROADS ARMY BUILDS 200 MILES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 21.—Encouraged by the results of their efforts yesterday when according to Governor Major's estimate 200 miles of new roads were built, Missouri's good roads army started forth today to complete the work so well begun. Although the number of volunteers who engaged in the first day's campaign exceeded expectations, reports from nearly every county indicated that a large number were wielding the picks and shovels today. In some districts farming operations practically were suspended, as the farmers decided the road improvement was the most important work in which they could engage.

Severe Case of a Philadelphia Woman—Her Symptoms.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headaches, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness."

Action by the Council or the People--Which?

THE TRIBUNE has counseled that judgment be suspended further than urging upon the Council the wishes of the larger and better part of the community (as we believe) till the Commissioners have had an opportunity to prepare an ordinance regulating the liquor traffic. At the same time we have urged the necessity for prompt action, reminding the Commissioners that public sentiment would not tolerate a suspension of action indefinitely, and continued postponement will only provoke popular feeling and give ground for questioning the good intentions of the Commissioners.

It should not be necessary to remind the gentlemen at the city hall that apologies for the conditions existing at present will not be accepted as guarantees of good faith or as evidence of an intention to apply the requisite remedies. The efforts to arrange the zone lines to avoid driving existing saloons out of the residence districts are disquieting. Arranging the zone lines so as to make a crazy quilt pattern with angles projecting into the residence districts will be a palpable juggle to defeat one of the reforms urgently demanded. Violating a rule, the efficiency of which is conceded even by the liquor men, to permit certain individuals to continue selling liquor by retail in home neighborhoods, will be equivalent to handing the public a gold brick. If such a shabby trick be attempted public indignation cannot be restrained from expressing itself.

The Commissioners will make a lamentable blunder, for which they can never excuse themselves, if they sacrifice the public interest to the interests of the saloon forces—if they should start with a declaration that saloons shall be eliminated from the residence districts and then provide a way to keep them there. Saloons will have to go out of the residence districts even if the people have to vote them out. And while they are voting the saloons out they will vote some other things out. Make a note of that.

The issue of reducing the number of saloons to 200 and increasing the license from $500 to $1000 a year is not to be evaded. Nor can it be postponed by diversions worked up by the saloon forces. The people are giving this whole question intelligent scrutiny and they are not to be bamboozled and cheated by any sophistical pretense. It is not safe to try the trick of keeping a promise to the ear and breaking it to the hope. This is not a blind movement led by blind people. Quite the contrary. It is a popular movement directed by conscience and intelligence with well defined objects in view and a plan of action marked out. The reforms demanded are not only reasonable and practicable, but necessary under existing circumstances. If they fail in the Council they will be carried to the electorate, together with such other matters as call for correction and amendment. Politicians and the liquor men will display wisdom by recognizing and facing this fact now rather than hereafter.

This saloon matter will not be suffered to drag along interminably. We will be sorry if the question be forced to a popular vote, but unless prompt and satisfactory action be taken by the Council a popular vote will become necessary. Official protection of deadfalls must cease. Upon that the people of this city are resolved. Whether legislation shall be for the saloons or the people has now become a sharply defined issue that cannot be straddled or evaded or shuffled into the background.

Whether we shall have action by the Council or action by the people must be speedily determined. The people are tired of waiting and are ready to act. Procrastination has about exhausted public patience.

Don't Alter the Y. W. C. A. Design.

It is stated that the design for the Young Women's Christian Association building will have to be altered because of a lack of funds. The building will have to be reduced in size and some of its most ornamental features eliminated because there is not sufficient money available to complete the structure as designed. It must be curtailed, diminished in its fair proportions unless the people of this community make up the deficiency in the building fund.

It would be a shame to alter the building in the slightest particular. The design is beautiful and noble, far too beautiful and noble to be hacked and emasculated out of shape, the harmony of its lines and the dignity of its dimensions destroyed. In that case it would be a memorial to illiberality and a jaded public spirit. By all means the building should be completed as designed, and the people of Oakland should see that this is done. Such a fair structure would be a notable adornment for our city and a testimonial to the civic pride, not to say moral aspirations, of its citizens.

It is to be hoped that some way can be found to raise the lacking money. Let the civic bodies join hands with the churches in an effort to raise the additional sum required. Public spirit can unite with religious ardor in furtherance of an enterprise which will beautify the city and ennoble its citizenship. The people of Oakland should put their hands in their pockets and make up the deficiency. They have put their hands in their pockets freely many times in the past, but never in a worthier cause.

The Young Women's Association should have as fine a building as the Young Men's Association. The work of the women's branch is equally worthy and even more necessary. It enables young women who are strangers in the city to get employment, guards them from temptations and provides them with a place for rest and recreations amid surroundings morally elevating. Hence a design combining beauty with spaciousness harmonizes with a scheme of social endeavor which aims to aid young women compelled to earn a livelihood and at the same time supply the family guardianship of which they have been deprived. Here is a large field for endeavor of this kind, and this community should be peculiarly responsive to appeals to aid it. The service calls to the noble-minded and free-hearted lovers of their kind. Assisting and protecting friendless girls is a work appealing to every manly, generous emotion of the human heart. Let the building of the Young Women's Christian Association be, so far as art can appeal to the eye and convey meaning to the understanding, a symbol of the service to which it is dedicated.

Hence it should be lofty, beautiful and spacious as befits the purpose of noble minds. The people of this city should never allow it to be said that they failed to measure up to the ethical standard in a matter of this kind. It will be a cause for grave regret in future if a lack of money should necessitate spoiling a design so externally beautiful and so adapted internally to the uses to which it is to be devoted. It has been nobly planned; let it be generously carried out without deviation. The design should not be altered until every recourse has failed. THE TRIBUNE is confident that another appeal to the public will yield good results. The people of Oakland are not niggardly or lacking in public spirit, and they will do their duty if they can be brought to see it in its proper light.

What a Chamber of Commerce Stands For

The modern American Chamber of Commerce is a new creation as unlike its predecessor of two or three decades ago as the commercial methods, standards and usage of today differ from those of the last generation.

This new institution is commercial only in the sense that the material welfare is the foundation of a sound civic organism. While its motives and ambitions are those of business, its inspiration is the spirit of service not to cliques or classes, but to the community.

The interdependence of trade and industry of transportation and banking of the promotive, protective and dependent auxiliaries of commerce are now so well understood and recognized that no interest or group of interests stands alone. Hence the concern of the modern Chamber of Commerce for the communal welfare.

Every city that proposes to further its commercial and industrial growth must proceed to that end through an organism of high character and efficiency. Founded upon this new conception of local co-operation and upon its practical success, is the new profession of secretary—the

There is indeed an increasing demand for enlightened civic leadership, and the young men of the best type who now take up commercial organization work with intelligence and enthusiasm must come with full confidence upon a successful future.

There is no profession that calls for finer qualities of heart and mind than this new profession—none that requires more intelligence and skill, none that demands more self-effacement.

The successful secretary must be greater than his task; a power "behind the throne" holding his honorable office by the excellence of his service and the merit of his personality.

A Chamber of Commerce, like any other business, needs adequate management, needs men of extraordinary talents and qualities. The best fact is that there is A Prematurely Exploded Sensation.

The situation in Mexico does not change materially, but the news from there does change with startling rapidity. Hardly had the morning papers printed the dispatch containing the news that Huerta had sent an ultimatum to Washington demanding immediate recognition and had given Mr. O'Shaughnessy, American Charge d'Affaires, his passports than dispatches came pouring in denying the story in toto. Mr. O'Shaughnessy notified the state department that he had not been given his passports. Huerta denied that he had sent a note to Washington demanding recognition, and, lastly, John Lind, special envoy of President Wilson, telegraphed that he had spent two hours with Huerta and found him very cordial.

Now who started the canard? How came the American correspondents in the city of Mexico to send out a sensational story which was immediately disproved? They do not seem to have inquired of anybody competent to tell them the facts. Apparently they were in haste to telegraph a story which they could not verify and seemingly made no attempt to verify lest it be made useless by contradiction. But what inventive liar gave them the tip? One may be sure he is some person who wants the United States to intervene in Mexico. The purpose of the canard was plainly to start something. The object was to stir up angry feeling in the hope that some hasty action or some hot-tempered speech would precipitate the trouble our government is seeking to avoid.

Happily the story exploded before it did any damage, but its publication reveals how delicate and strained the situation is. Moreover, it shows that somebody is shrewdly at work to break off friendly negotiations with Mexico and inflame popular sentiment in this country. It is well the President and his cabinet advisers are keeping their heads and taking things coolly. It may be that the canard will have an effect contrary to the one desired by those who invented it—bring on a better understanding instead of widening the incipient breach between the Huerta government and the Washington authorities. It is to be hoped so.

But the incident should be a warning to correspondents and news agencies against handling unverified news touching diplomatic negotiations of a delicate nature. The situation demands accuracy and conservatism in statement, and American newspapers will render their country and reputable journalism an ill service by giving publicity to false stories calculated to bring on an international disturbance. This is no time to give credence to the vapors of mescal or the whispered tales of intriguers.

SEPTEMBER will be listed with many smart affairs as a result of the many engagements have been made and on account of weddings which are planned to take place in October. Many beautiful parties will be given for the winter season the latter part of next month after the close of the season at that resort.

One of the smartest affairs marked to take place the first of the month will be the reception to be given by Mrs. Albert Capwell at her beautiful residence in Claremont Boulevard September 2. The honorees will be Mrs. James Telford Hamilton, a prominent Pittsburgh matron and Mrs. Paul Tietzen who has just opened a handsome residence in the Claremont district. On the guest list are the names of many prominent matrons of the bay cities who are bidden to call between the hours of 3 and 6. Mrs. Hamilton is a former resident of Oakland and will return to her eastern home within a few weeks.

As a result of a serious illness her plans have been somewhat modified, but despite the fact the popular matron has been the motif for many smart affairs while on her visit to the west.

ENTERTAIN WITH DINNER DANCE.

Miss Dorothy Capwell is planning a dinner dance at the parental residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Capwell for September 4, in honor of Mrs. Moylan Fox Jr. who will be domiciled at the Hotel Oakland for a week on their return from a fortnight's honeymoon, before leaving for Idaho where they will make their future home. Miss Capwell will be assisted in receiving her guests by her mother and younger sister Miss Dorothy Capwell. Hints About Motoring

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1913, by Lillian Russell.)

THE woman who sits rigid and watches the road incessantly while motoring will use up in one ride enough vitality to last a year.

If women are inclined to nervousness motoring is the worst possible way of getting air. Anything is preferable. Walking is best, and driving behind a quiet horse is next best.

But motoring, especially for several hours at a time, is disastrous to health unless one sits back and watches only the scenery. It is sometimes quite impossible to carry on an earnest conversation, so just passing remarks are all that is recommended.

Some women find the vibrations of a motoring trip exceedingly irritating and are able to sleep like children after hours of it. Others become nervous and wakeful and pass nights of painful restlessness after motor trips. Such women should not take long trips.

A few suggestions for motoring may be helpful. First of all your feet must be kept warm. You should lean back and relax. Use a pillow if the back seat of the car is too much. Wear a small hat that will not prevent your leaning back, warm gloves, and a loose corset and learn to press the toes of your left foot upon the foot rail just as a woman presses her toes on the stirrup when riding horseback, so that you will rise gently in the seat without jolting when going over the bumps.

Look anywhere but at the road ahead. Trust in the chauffeur to land you where you are desirous of going. In that way motoring may be made a pleasure.

Remember: Motor cars are an invention for pleasure, not for pain, though they often work both ways.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

TROUBLED: Excessive perspiration comes from a disordered condition of the sweat glands, and usually accompanies rheumatism, gout and diseases of the nervous system. It generally indicates a run-down condition. Mild cases are benefited by bathing the affected surface in hot water, as hot as you can stand. A strong solution of common baking soda and hot water also is effective. Another good wash is one or two drams of alum dissolved in a pint of alcohol. After bathing affected surface dust with plain boric talcum powder.

JEANETTE: If you have a sallow complexion, look well to your diet. Eat simple, nourishing foods, no rich, greasy foods, pastries or sweets. Take plenty of exercise in the open air, get plenty of fresh air during sleep hours. Practice deep breathing.

MRS. W. E. O.—Lack of sleep affects a woman's looks at once. (Women) are supposed to require eight hours of sleep. Sound sleep can be had only in a room where the ventilation is perfect—that is, where there is a steady current of constantly changing fresh air. Have a comfortable bed. Never sleep on the stomach. It hinders digestion. Never sleep propped up with pillows; lie as flat as possible, with a small pillow under your head, under your head. Never sleep with the mouth open.

H.—I am sorry, but I cannot give you the formula you ask about. I know of nothing you could put into the water to take the "red-dishness" out of your hair. A bleach will probably change the color of your hair, but I do not advise you to use a bleach on the hair. There is nothing prettier, in my opinion, than red hair. Leave your hair as it is. I shall be glad to send you the formula for removing freckles if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

MISS LULY D.—The tincture of green soap is not the green soap to be used in the treatment of blackheads. This green soap is not green in color, but yellow, and comes in a paste form; in other words, it is unripe or soft soap. I am sure your druggist could get it for you at the wholesale house or from a large drug store.

BOY SCOUTS IN MOVING PICTURES

Photograph of Lads Taken on White House Grounds and at Camp.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Probably the eight proudest boys in the United States today are to be found in the local organization of Boy Scouts, for they will go down to posterity in the "movies" scouting with President Wilson in the White House grounds. The film in which they will appear, incidentally, is to be 8000 feet long, the longest yet made with the exception of one production.

The moving pictures, which are intended to advance the boy scout movement, were taken yesterday. The President will be shown welcoming the boys and shaking hands with them, after which he will be depicted watching and directing the youngsters in some of their scout work.

In carrying out the idea of depicting the boy scout movement, the picture operators this week will visit Camp Archibald Butt, near the capital, where the Boy Scouts are spending the summer and will take moving pictures of scenes in their camp life.

TRIED TO REMOVE HIS WIFE'S TEETH; JAILED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—A separation from one's wife in the eyes of the law, for a man who attempted to remove the teeth of his wife, was made today when he was sentenced to jail.

Tom Sing not guilty. Hong was fined $100.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of doing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrup and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them with opiates.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

MRS. MELCHER SAYS SHE WAS OFFERED A BRIBE

Agent of Prince Sulkowski Said to Have Threatened Woman.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Clara Melcher, the Vienna housewife who accused Prince Stanislaus Sulkowski of Austria of having induced her to come to this country for immoral purposes, told federal authorities here yesterday that she had been approached with an offer of a bribe and threats of incarceration unless she left the country.

J. M. Bowen, special agent here for the Department of Justice, said Mrs. Melcher had stated to him that a man named with the threat that unless she accepted him and left the country she would be thrown into prison. The federal authorities began a search for Lentz.

Prince Sulkowski, who was recently married here to Miss Marie Louise Freese of this city, now is on the way to the Orient with his bride. An investigation of Mrs. Melcher's charges against him will be made by the federal grand jury here in September, according to government officials, with a view to indicting the man on a charge of having violated the Mann white slave act.

WOMAN INSPECTOR FOR CLEANER CITY STREETS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Edith W. Pierce, Philadelphia's first woman street inspector, today called on the school children of this city for aid in a clean city crusade that, she said, will make the Quaker City the most beautiful in the world. Since taking office, Mrs. Pierce has enlisted the housewives to her aid and the cry of a "cleaner Philadelphia" has swept the place with as much vigor as the new official expects to see in a reform in the disposal of garbage is the next task mapped out by Mrs. Pierce.

STOCKTON HOTEL MAN HELD AS WHITE SLAVER

STOCKTON, Aug. 21.—J. T. Mitchen, proprietor of a large hotel in the heart of the shopping district here, was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of encouraging immorality among young girls. Startling stories were related on the witness stand by girls still in their teens, several describing drunken orgies in which they said they were forced to participate by Mitchen.

When Mitchen, Anna Seftine, Kate Hampton and May Thompson were the principal witnesses against the defendant. One of them declared that she had practically been held a prisoner at the hotel and the attentions of strange men forced upon her.

One girl testified that she tried to escape from a room, but was caught by the defendant. All declared that they were supplied with intoxicants and kept most of the time in a state of intoxication. Mitchen's bond was fixed at $5000.

BLAMES DOWNFALL OF GIRLS TO THEIR PARENTS

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 21.—Parents are to blame for a large part of the immorality of girls, said Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health, before the state vice commission meeting in the Assembly chamber. He said that of the total number of girls who go wrong about 5 per cent would go wrong anyway.

"Parents are to be blamed for the present conditions to a great extent," said Dr. Harper. They permit young girls to go to late hours of dinner and to late hours, unchaperoned.

Dr. Harper said that in some cases the girls that repulsed all advances were ostracized by young men who are leaders in the best society.

BRIDE CARRIES DOVE WHILE WEDDING FIGHTER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Private Joseph J. Ruby, U. S. A., is a first class fighting man, but there will be no strife in his married life if symbols count. He was married yesterday to Pearl Simmons, a girl from the city, at the city hall by Judge A. B. Treadwell. The bride carried a bouquet of roses upon which was perched a snow white dove of peace, stuffed, but lifelike.

Standing erect in his uniform, Private Ruby bowed before the dove of peace and lifted one wing gingerly to clasp the hand of his bride.

Mrs. Wilson, his mother-in-law, was already under the spell of the dove. "Where is the marriage license?" inquired Judge Treadwell.

"I have it," said Mrs. Wilson, drawing it from her bosom.

"I have it," asked Judge Treadwell. "I have it," replied the mother-in-law, extracting it from some place in the region of her shoe.

"The fee, if any," suggested the judge, when the ceremony was over.

"My mother-in-law will pay it," said the peaceful private Ruby.

"But the fee was extracted from the same place as the ring."

"FLYING SNITZEL" IN QUEER PREDICAMENT

GARDEN CITY, L. I., Aug. 21.—Hans Weidman, 18-year-old aviator, known throughout as "Flying Snitzel," is happy because Uncle Hans Snitzel Weidman, a wealthy German manufacturer, who recently died, left him $50,000 on condition that he get married right away, and he is unhappy because the young lady of his heart has turned him down, as he says. Snitzel, since he left Germany, has resided in Los Angeles, and it was out there that he met the young woman who has possessed his thoughts since. She is Miss Florence Bluman, and if she will come east in response to telegraphed requests made today, Weidman thinks she may consent to take back her refusal and become his wife.

"I certainly would like to marry her right away," he said, "and with this money Uncle Hans has left me we could have an awful nice time. I don't want to give up flying. I like it, but Miss Bluman doesn't and she says I've got to quit."

Saturday Night FROLICS

(By LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.)

THE funder of lovers appreciates it when his sweetheart tells him that she does not expect him to dance attendance upon her every evening in the week, especially in summer; that she does not disapprove of his taking each Saturday off to amuse himself as fancy wills. In this decision a girl shows her good sense.

Until he is tied down by matrimony a young man feels that his own inclinations should be indulged in as long as his "good time" hangs no one. Every young man in summer likes to go off with a crowd of his fellows and indulge his liking for a good game of baseball, where he can shout himself hoarse if he wishes; go off with the boys for a swim in an automobile spin or an evening at billiards or pool. He likes the opportunity of doffing his coat, collar and tie and substituting a negligee for his belted shirt, and to sleep all night out of doors on the cooling sands with his companions if his hall bedroom in his boarding house in the city is hot and stuffy.

No man likes an overbearing sweetheart. He would have her reasonable at all times. The girl who insists upon having her lover at her side every Saturday evening and in only enjoying such pleasures as she can share with him is apt to grow weary to him. There's nothing that a man looks forward to more than to his innocent Saturday night frolic. Because he wants to have his own pleasure on this particular evening does not denote that he is less loyal to her or that he has the least intention of calling upon some other girl. Many a girl would be surprised to learn that her lover might have other company if he could only spend Saturday evening with her.

A girl appreciates the same privileges, having one night to herself, going where she pleases or entertaining her girl friends. Her home folks, her sisters and her brothers have a right to expect her to devote her Saturday night to them. The summer resorts plan frolics. They depend upon the young man's coming, which makes it jolly for the young girls. Laughing and joking with him there were no young men coming up Saturday nights there would be little use for having their hops, clambakes and out-of-door sports.

The summer resort girls should not pin their hope to the belief that these young men's sole object is to meet marriageable girls. They should take them as they find them, for when they are in the mood, the young man who is intent upon having a good time on his Saturday night frolic seldom, if ever, lays his plans a week ahead. No young girl should expect that she would lose her sweetheart because of his Saturday night frolics. If he has all of the many sports that he desires before marriage he will be sure to not yearn to go out with the boys after marriage. Nor will he be likely to yearn for his club, anything, to take him out of the house for a harmless Saturday night frolic among his boon companions.

SHALL SHE GO WITH HIM NOW?

"Dear Miss Libbey: About four months ago a young man of my acquaintance, who was inclined to be rather wild, desired to call on me. I told him as positively as I could that I was not to be seen, and really, now he is all that could be expected of any young man. Do you think if I go with him now he will release into his former habits or not? And do you think if he does not for two years that he won't for a life-time? My mother has promised me, or told me, that I must abide by your decision or advice."

It is pretty difficult for me to decide your question for you, knowing as little about as fellow as I do. I think it is a problem that you will have to settle for yourself. Give it just as serious consideration as you can. But don't assume that hopeless, thankless job—the reforming of a young man. A fellow worth while will reform himself every time.

To The Young Expectant Mother

Women of Experience Advise the Use of Mother's Friend.

There is some trepidation in the mind of most women in regard to motherhood. The longing to possess is often contradicted by the fear of distress.

But there need be no such dread in view of the fact that we have an effective remedy in what is known as Mother's Friend.

This is an external application that has a wonderful influence and control over the muscular tissues of the abdomen. By its daily use the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments all gently expand without the slightest strain; there is no pain, no nausea, no nervousness; what was dreaded as a severe physical ordeal becomes a calm, serene, joyful anticipation.

In almost every community there are women who have used Mother's Friend, and they are the ones that recovered quickly.

Mother's Friend is prepared after the formula of a noted family doctor by the

WOMAN ACCUSED OF SPEAKING TO JUROR FLEES

MRS. C. D. LANE LEAVES FOR SOUTH

Judge Van Fleet issues
Citation for the Vanishing Lady.

Document Made Petitionable for Next Monday by Courts
Order.

BULLETIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—After consulting with Special Prosecutor Theodore Roche and United States Attorney McKinley, Judge Van Fleet at noon issued a citation for Mrs. C. D. Lane, who is alleged to have spoken to Juror Bliss in connection with his being on the jury at the trial of Maury I. Diggs. Mrs. Lane, who is a life-long friend of Bliss, left here yesterday for San Diego. The citation was made returnable next Monday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Maury I. Diggs, found guilty at a late hour last night on four counts of violating the Mann white slave act in having transported Lola Norris and Marsha Warrington Reno, Nev., for immoral purposes, was released on bail at an early hour this morning. His father, I. P. Diggs, and his uncle, Michael Diggs, both of Berkeley, satisfied United States Commissioner Krull of the sufficiency of the bond and Diggs was allowed to go away with his sorrowing wife to spend a few short days in freedom. On September 2 he must face Judge Van Fleet and receive his sentence. He can receive a five-year term and a $5000 fine on each of the four counts on which he was convicted, making twenty years and $20,000 in all. It is thought that the court will be lenient to the extent of at least cutting this period in half.

CAMINETTI TRIAL SET
Next Tuesday F. Drew Caminetti will be forced to trial on a similar accusation. Special Prosecutor Theodore Roche said this morning that he did not know which of the two indictments would be chosen on which to try Caminetti, son of Immigration Commissioner Caminetti. The difference, however, is a slight one. The first indictment contains only four counts, the four on which Diggs was convicted. The second contains six counts, including the two on which the jury could not agree. Following the Caminetti trial Diggs and Attorney Charles Harris of Sacramento will face a jury accused of conspiracy to suborn perjury for the alleged efforts to influence the testimony of Marsha Warrington.

When it was announced at 10 o'clock last night that the jury was coming into court, Mrs. Diggs turned white as a ghost. Caminetti was visibly disturbed, but Diggs himself appeared calm. There was no outward demonstration in the courtroom. The interior of Judge Van Fleet's court was quiet as usual. Louis Bloch was chosen foreman of the jury. It was found that the first four counts had given the jurors little trouble. On the fifth they stood seven to five and on the sixth ten to two for conviction. The first count charged Diggs with aiding in transporting Marsha Warrington from Sacramento to Reno for an immoral purpose. The second accused him of the same offense, involving Lola Norris, the third charged the purchasing of a ticket from Sacramento to Reno

Governor of Jolo Kills Moro Assaultants

MANILA, Aug. 21.—Vernon L. Whitney of Iowa, governor of Jolo, had a narrow escape when attacked treacherously by Moros. He received five barbed wounds, but probably will recover. He killed both of his assailants after a struggle.

Governor Whitney had just completed an inspection of the scout camp at Bual Inoc and had sent his interpreter to order his launch. The interpreter was attacked by the Moros and as he ran to investigate he met two Moros who approached in a friendly manner, then suddenly attacked him. Whitney clinched one of the Moros while he shot the other and then with a struggle wrestled the baron from the other man and finished him with it. During the struggle, however, Whitney received bad wounds.

Remove Stone Famed In Newspaperdom

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Lovers of ancient land marks today joined in a cry of protest when they discovered that the famous stone on which Anne Royall was said to have sat and "interviewed" President John Quincy Adams while the head of the nation was bathing in the Potomac river had been removed to make room for improvements in Potomac park. For years the stone occupied the identical spot that Anne Royall hallowed and before which the President stood in waiting to his neck while the young woman quizzed him. Miss Royall has been handed up in history as the "mother of journalism." Steps will be taken to preserve the stone for the veneration of future generations.

Three Children Dead In Stove Explosion

HEMINGFORD, Neb., Aug. 21.—The three children, aged 2, 5 and 8 years respectively, of J. S. Pitman, a farmer living four miles north of here, were burned to death and the home destroyed today as a result of a gasolene stove explosion. Mrs. Pitman was surrounded by the children at the time of the explosion and was so badly burned that she is not expected to live. Mr. Pitman, who was working in the field, ran home when he saw the smoke pouring out of the door and windows, only reaching there in time to save the baby. In doing so he was overcome by smoke and fire so that he narrowly escaped.

for Miss Warrington, and the fourth for arranging transportation for Miss Norris. The fifth and sixth counts, on which the jurors were not unanimous, charged, respectively, the inducing and persuading of Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris to go to Reno for an unlawful purpose.

JURY ASK INSTRUCTIONS
At 9:30 a. m. the jury prior to the announcing of the verdict, the jurors asked for instructions as to how they should vote and prepare their ballot. Previous to that they had had their supper, so that the actual time of deliberation was about three and one-half hours. In summing up the evidence, Special Prosecutor Mac Sullivan was clear and concise and avoided all attempt at oratorical denunciation. He contended himself with plainly setting forth his idea of how the defendant had violated the Mann white slave act and told the jury there was no escape for them to find Diggs guilty. The court's instructions to the jury were considered by most to have been eminently fair, although at their conclusion the defense objected and took exception to the failure of Judge Van Fleet to deny a multitude of charges which had been submitted to him. The jury retired at 4:30 and Diggs remained in the custody of the marshal until he was released on bond. He was not allowed to go to supper with his wife, but was taken to a cafe by Deputy Amertch.

This morning at 9:45 Juror W. S. Bliss called at the office of United States Attorney Benjamin L. McKinley and prepared to make an affidavit concerning the effort to get in conversation with the jury. He was met by Mrs. C. B. Lane, widow of a wealthy mining man of this city, and a friend of Mrs. Anthony Caminetti.

JUDGE GIVES ADMONITION.
Because of the announcement of an attempt to speak to Juror Bliss in the Diggs case yesterday afternoon, Judge Van Fleet gave a strong admonition to the jury panel this morning explaining to them the necessity of avoiding conversations about the case. He said, "The gentlemen drawn on this panel may be drawn to serve on the cases in this calendar and because of my anxiety to have these cases promptly and properly heard, I feel it my duty now to admonish you not to permit anyone to communicate with you or to converse with you on matters bearing on this case, or permit them to be discussed in your presence. No one has any right to approach any man on this general panel even though the man in the other trials has not been selected. Any attempt of this kind will be considered as serious contempt and will be punished severely. No man can talk to any talemans, and gentlemen, when I say 'man' I mean woman also. Let no woman talk to you."

The jury was then excused until next Tuesday.

BLISS MAKES AFFIDAVIT.
Bliss concluded the making of his affidavit shortly after noon. In it he stated that he had no conversation with anyone about the case. He said that he had no conversation with anyone about the case. He said that he had no conversation with anyone about the case. He said that he had no conversation with anyone about the case.

35 SAVED IN 25 INJURED IN AQUEDUCT BLAZE

Workmen Are Trapped for Two Hours 440 Feet
Underground.

Caught in Section of the Big Catskill Tube; Five Are Injured.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Thirty-five workmen caught 440 feet underground in a section of the Catskill aqueduct, in course of construction under Washington Heights here, when fire broke out in the shafthouse overhead last night, were found unharmed two hours later when the fire was controlled. Their chief suffering had been from lack of air, cut off by the smoke. Five were hurt during the rescue.

The fire was a spectacular one and besides greatly damaging the massive shaft building, spread to apartment houses closely adjoining it. Two apartment buildings were burned out and others damaged.

When the fire broke out the men in the underground workings fled 1500 feet to the end of the section and huddled there, terror-stricken until the air began to clear. Then one made his way to the telephone connecting with the street and told of the safety of all. Preparations were at once made to bring them to the surface.

Five hours after the fire started the men were hoisted, a few at a time, in a basket contrivance rigged up with a dummie engine.

Two laborers, two tunnel workers and a fireman were injured, among them Peter Schantuck, laborer, who became wedged between two beams at the top of the shaft above the shaft opening. A policeman who went to Schantuck's aid found his clothing afire. It was only possible to extricate him by shoving him from the top of the structure. The policeman did this to save Schantuck from burning to death. Schantuck fell fifty feet and probably will die from a fractured skull, burns and internal injuries. The other injured will live.

Dynamite was supposed to have been in the shaft and police reserves threw lines around a dozen city blocks believed to be in danger, and thousands of persons were kept back. It developed that there was no explosion in the tunnel, however.

Sparks from the blacksmith forge are believed to have caused the fire. The loss is estimated at more than $100,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—As was expected, a twenty days' adjournment of time was granted today for R. G. Smith to answer the bankruptcy suit brought at the instance of R. G. Hanford. This is in line with the announced intention of Hanford to drop the proceedings against Smith in view of the fact that he has been granted an option on the Oakland and San Francisco and the United Properties Company.

The trustees into whose hands Smith has given his affairs are busy arranging the interest payments on large loans.

MATHEMATICAN GETS FIVE YEARS

Former Instructor at Northern Illinois College Is Shown Leniency.

Owen H. Seiple, graduate of the Northern Illinois College and former instructor in mathematics in that institution, who was convicted by a jury last week on a charge of passing forged checks, was sentenced to serve five years in San Quentin by Superior Judge Waste this morning.

Replying to a plea of counsel for defendant, Judge Waste said that the crime was not a part in Seiple's career, but that it looked like a whole chapter.

G. A. Webb, attorney and probation officer of Crescent City, Del Norte county, wrote the court that Seiple "had nursed him along until he was ripe and then plucked him for $20." Later borrowing $10 more.

After his mathematical career, Seiple was employed as auditor and credit man for the Gillette Company of Chicago. During 1907 and 1908 he conducted the Golden Eagle Hotel in Sacramento. For a time he was a representative of the Gillette company. He is 35 years of age. The jury recommended extreme leniency and Judge Waste said that on this account he cut two years from the sentence which he would otherwise have given the defendant. An effort to have the case referred to the probation officer was unsuccessful. Besides passing bad checks in Oakland it is said that Seiple also passed five in San Francisco and three in Del Norte county.

The several committee reports will show that the club is doing a vast amount of work for the upbuilding of the section and that the co-operation of merchants and owners more than a half million dollars worth of buildings are either in course of construction or are contemplated and plans for same are in the hands of architects and contractors.

19-YEAR LAD KILLS SELF
AND 17-YEAR SWEETHEART
YONKERS, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Charles Rich, aged 19 years, was found dead and his 17-year-old sweetheart, Ruth Hamilton, was found mortally wounded early today with evidence that they had agreed to die together. That Rich had shot her and then killed himself was a note saying: "We are going to end it all" was found at midnight on the doorstep of the home of Henry C. Morand, a wealthy stockbroker, where Miss Hamilton lived. A short time afterwards the Rev. J. E. Oakley telephoned to the police that Miss Hamilton had been found on his doorstep, probably dying from a bullet wound. The clergyman's daughter, Lena Oakley, had stumbled across the girl's form as she was returning from a recreation of evening hours. This clue led to the discovery of Rich's body on the edge of a wooded section a hundred yards away. A .38-caliber revolver lay by his side.

Aged Woman and Grandchildren Rescued by Police and Firemen.

Locked in Second Story of Residence for Three Days.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Mrs. E. D. Scherer, an aged woman, and her two grandchildren, John Hull, 7, and Mary Hull, 5, were rescued today from the second story of a residence in which they had been locked three days ago by Mrs. John Hull, the daughter of Mrs. Scherer and the mother of the children.

Mrs. Hull had not only locked the doors, but she also had barred egress by nailing the windows shut, leaving the old woman and children without food or water.

NOTE TELLS STORY.
Mrs. Scherer broke a window pane today and threw out a note telling the police of her predicament. A small boy found the note and delivered it. The police responded, but were forced to call upon the fire department for ladders with which to rescue the woman and children.

Mrs. Hull was arrested and questioned. "I locked them all up for their own good," she said. "I don't think they are exactly sane."

The police said they would hold Mrs. Hull herself for an examination before the lunacy commission.

LAUNCH CALYPSO TOWED INTO PORT

Drifted Helplessly at Sea for Two Days Before Found by Panama.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—After having drifted helplessly at sea for two days, the launch Calypso was towed into Los Angeles harbor today by the launch Panama which, with an experienced crew, had a similar experience a few days ago.

When the machinery of the Calypso, which plies between Catalina island and the main land, broke Tuesday its 25 passengers were transferred to the launch Virginia and taken to Los Angeles harbor where Captain Jack Lopez and three of the crew remained aboard the disabled vessel.

Lopez and his three companions stayed on the Calypso until yesterday afternoon, when they were rescued by the launch Panama. Exhausted, they took to a life boat and started for Catalina island. They were rescued on Catalina island by the launch Panama, which went in search of the Calypso, finding the latter vessel 35 miles off Catalina island.

Elena Bell Dances Tango

Wears Wonderful Shawls

ELENA BELL, WHO IS DANCING THE TANGO AT THE OAKLAND ORPHEUM THIS WEEK.

The tango is generally thought to be an American invention, but pretty little Elena Bell, at the Oakland Orpheum this week, with one of her brothers, is dancing a tango which, she says, was created in Spain ages ago and which makes the American version look weak and amateur in comparison. While both dance with wild abandon and grace, the man accompanies his movements by beating rhythmically on a queer-looking drum, the woman using a Moorish implement. In response to an encore, the vivacious signora appears in the scene again, dragging several dollars' worth of shawl after her. Then, with a sudden move, she drops it over her with a single throw, as only a Spanish woman can, and dashes into another version of the tango, this time accompanied by another brother with a "barbaric" instrument looks more like a huge cante than anything else, and while snuffing it in perfect time, the performer does a dance which would tax even a clever artist. The shawl which Miss Elena manages with such adroit grace is one of six exquisite pieces of the same kind that are priceless. They were made in "old Madrid," the birthplace of her mother.

All the costumes worn by the Bell family are as interesting in their way as the shawls worn by the little Elena. The embroidery on the men's costumes is done with solid gold wire, and each jewel and there are hundreds of them—is in a setting. The suits are extremely heavy, one of the short jackets alone weighing about twenty-five pounds. These gorgeous costumes, with their color and glitter, and the rich, expensive set, add to the attractiveness of an act that by merit alone stands out clearly on an unusually good bill.

ALL MUSICIANS.

Every member of the Bell family is an accomplished musician, and they have been raised in an atmosphere of music, both parents having been noted in their day as singers. Their mother, who is training with them, and who is to be enough to be frequently mistaken for a sister, was before her marriage a South American beauty and opera singer. By an odd coincidence, the name of this bell-ringing family is really Bell, the Spanish beauty marrying an Englishman by that name, who afterward became the father of Elena Bell, where he owned a string of successful theaters. While the father was making and losing fortunes in the show business, the talented mother devoted her life to the home and the raising of a family, and each year a new Bell was added to the family chimera, until sixteen voices rang out in a chorus that would have delighted Mr. Roosevelt. Nine of them are appearing at the Orpheum, but, as Phina, the black-face comedienne, says, when she shows her white arm, "that isn't all." There are thirteen of them traveling together and enjoying it better than a "personally conducted tour." Phina, the tall, dark, curly-haired, who plays the violin and Little Arthy, who wields the baton and shakes his brown locks with all the precision and abandon of a Creator, are the two extremes, the oldest and youngest, of this interesting family. Along in between come Elena, the vivacious little dancer, Sylvia, Celia, the blonde, and five other brothers and sisters.

WENT TO CUBA.

When the revolution in Mexico began to assume a more than ordinarily serious aspect, the Bell family migrated for a few weeks. It was thought, to Cuba, until the little unpleasantness subsided, but the revolution is still "revolving." Meanwhile the Bells are ringing merrily over the Orpheum circuit, giving out such music on their barbarian-born instruments as thrills every hearer and sets the feet in the gallery clapping madly in insistent applause. It is an act that may be appreciated and enjoyed by everyone. The embroidered shawls worn by Elena Bell at the Oakland Orpheum this week are on display in one of the windows of the H. C. Carwell Co. store. Even the white in the shawls is made of hand-woven, hundreds of years ago.

CONTRACTORS WARNED TO BE MORE CAREFUL

ALAMEDA, Aug. 21.—City Attorney Samuel Poorman Jr. has issued a statement to contractors and others supplying the city with goods or material that will not honor any contracts which are for $500, but which are collected by persons, unless they have been granted or being duly advertised. The city is adding by dividing a contract into two parts so that each amount is less than $500, but whose aggregate exceeds this sum. Poorman is determined to stop this practice and has issued a warning so that there will be no more evasions.

M. COOK CHARGED WITH PETTY LARCENY

J. M. Cook, arrested on the complaint Mrs. Mary Shumway on a charge of tampered petty larceny, was arraigned before the police court this morning. Cook is held to be on parole from San Quentin, is charged with having attempted to elude Mrs. Shumway in connection with contract for excavation for her new house.

DREDGING BIDS FOR CHANNEL TOO LOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Because he believes the contractors' estimate too low, Secretary of the Navy Daniels today rejected all bids for dredging Mare Island channel. New bids have been asked for. They will be opened about September 5. The naval bill of 1911 appropriated $300,000 for dredging, with a continuing contract of $507,000. Then estimates were made by the naval board that it would cost 15 cents a cubic foot for dredging the channel, including the removal of Commencement rock. All of the bids rejected by Secretary Daniels were figured on a cost basis lower than 15 cents a cubic foot. Daniels believes the work cannot be done for half the estimate of the naval board.

Following are the bids: T. G. Harris, $318,400; California Dredging Company, $322,000; Hawaiian Dredging Company, $435,820.

Suggestions Solicited

EDITORIAL.

There are certain drug supplies used in every household that are almost as staple as sugar or salt—sarsaparilla, tooth paste, boric acid, soaps of all kinds, peroxide, cleansing fluids, court plaster, gauze, etc.

housekeeper, each day, makes a list of the items she needs in the kitchen and why she should not make up a list of items needed in the drug line?

It is not only sometimes embarrassing to be out of such necessities as well as dangerous as well.

Suppose you look over the medicine cabinet right now and jot down upon a piece of paper the things you need.

You can telephone to us, Oakland 723, or to our East Oakland store, Merritt 15, or to our Berkeley store, Berkeley 113 and read off the list. Delivery will be made at once and your drug supply will be complete.

It seems needless to take chances in matters of this kind, and by going over the medicine chest systematically, as suggested, you eliminate all likelihood of ever being out of any necessary article.

BOWMAN'S FOOT COMFORT

Thermos all day Hot sidewalks Cold winds Tired feet

An ideal combination that can be easily broken up and changed to Bowman's Foot Comfort.

It seems as if Everybody Was Bringing Their Films to Bowman's for Development

We Are Now Employing Over 20 People in This Dept.—This Is Positive Proof of the Exceptional Satisfaction of Our Work

We are doing the greatest business in our history in our photographic development and printing department.

Why?

Because for years our work has been more than satisfactory to our customers. We've never been satisfied with mediocre results. We've succeeded in improving upon the work of the amateur photographer—better than simple reproduction of his exposures.

The result has been an ever-increasing business until today, we are employing more than twenty people developing and printing the films of our customers.

It pays to be conscientious and good work counts in the long run. No better example of this fact could be given than that of our printing and developing department.

We receive films from all over the country, as well as many from the Philippines, Europe, Mexico and some even from Asia. Our customers, traveling all over the world, find no one who gives them such satisfactory work as Bowman's.

30-DAY CHARGE ACCOUNTS ARE MUTUALLY SATISFACTORY.

It is a great accommodation and an advantage to have a charge account at Bowman's.

We stand ready to open thirty-day charge accounts with any one who can refer us to other merchants with whom they have enjoyed similar courtesies and have satisfactory accounts. We have to exercise some care in opening new accounts, however, because we sell so close to cost and always charge the same price to every one, both on cash and on account. We want to protect ourselves from delinquent settlements, but where customers settle early thirty days, such arrangements are always more than satisfactory.

You frequently find it more convenient to telephone than to call, in which case a charge account is almost necessary unless you send your purchase sent C. O. D.

HERE IS A CLEANING FLUID THAT WILL TAKE OFF THE SPOTS.

We have the finest cleaning fluid you've ever seen. It's non-inflammable and it most assuredly takes off the spots.

Professional cleaners say that it is the most effective article of the kind they've ever used.

It is called Kleenol and sells for 25c and 50c a bottle. It is a fluid and easily applied.

Spots are bound to come, no matter how careful you may be to avoid them. It is expensive to be continually sending your clothes to the cleaners and gasoline and ordinary cleaning fluids do not always accomplish satisfactory results.

Kleenol will remove almost anything and will not injure the most delicate fabric. We can recommend it strongly because we know it will give more genuine satisfaction than any cleaning fluid composition we've ever seen.

A THOROUGHLY SATISFACTORY TOILET WATER

When a woman knows real quality comes back again in purchasing a bottle of toilet water, you can rest assured that this reputation of a good toilet water is not only good, but exceptionally true.

This is the experience we have been having with Vergo Violet Toilet Water. Dozens of ladies have repeatedly called for more and almost invariably express their satisfaction when they call.

Vergo Violet Toilet Water is the best value in toilet water we have ever known and in a good toilet water is practically none in a poor one. Vergo Violet is not only good, but exceptionally true.

Service

Modern business is becoming more and more a matter of service. Railroads earn millions for service alone. We give you safety, convenience and service, of which there is no superior. This is yours for your patronage.

Passenger Continues Trip to Los Angeles in Blanket; Property Recovered.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Without trousers and minus a roll of $180 contained therein, Smith Beavers, a traveling salesman, gave passengers on a west-bound transcontinental train a thrill, according to a story told by the train crew today. The train was speeding at 60 miles an hour between Ontario and Los Angeles when Beavers' trousers slipped out of a window in his sleeping compartment. Beavers made known his predicament with shouts and wild gesticulations. The train was stopped and the conductor telegraphed back to Ontario, requesting the baggage agent to institute a search for his passenger's pants. The train then resumed its journey to Los Angeles with Beavers securely wrapped in a blanket. The pants were found with the money intact.

LINEMEN HELD FOR SHORT CIRCUITING WIRES

Leslie Leffler and John F. B. Tappan on felony charges of tampering with power wires, bonds being fixed in the sum of $1000 each. The two men were arrested by Karl Kloss, an employee of the gas company and station of Patrolman Rife. Kloss lives near the place of the short-circuiting of the wires.
